Briefcase for Mac

Release Notes

Technical Requirements

Devices Supported

Any Mac running OSX 10.7, 10.8, or 10.9

SharePoint Platforms Supported

- SharePoint 2007
- SharePoint 2010
- SharePoint 2013
- SharePoint Online (Office 365)

Authentication Methods Supported

- NTLM
- Office 365
- Claims-Based
- Mixed-Mode

Known Issues

| Reference #Description62743900File and folder names are not case sensitive. If a file or folder with the same name as an already existing item is uploaded, it will cause a sync issue. All subsequent files/folders with the same name (in different cases) are not uploaded.62743916Colligo does not recommend assigning read-only or view-only permissions to SharePoint folders and libraries that will be synced to Briefcase. Users with these permissions will be able to edit these files on their local machines, but the changes will not get uploaded to SharePoint. This can result in scenarios with sync issues that will be difficult to resolve.63738670If you are viewing an image file that you have synced through Briefcase, you cannot delete it because it is in use.63750114You are able to see and select sub-sites you do not have permission for, but you are not able to see the content of these sub-sites.64187958In the metadata editor, if you press Enter in a multi-line text field, the characters 'lr/n' display instead of a new line.64503744When a file becomes out of sync from a metadata update made to a file in SharePoint and a content change made in Briefcase, there will be a sync issue. If the sync issue is resolved locally through Briefcase, the changes are merged; that is, the content update from Briefcase and the metadata update from SharePoint are both saved. If you choose to keep the SharePoint changes, you lose the local edits.65929250You cannot drag-and-drop multiple eml files with a conversation from the standard Mac mail client into Briefcase.66173738If you have a Person filed in the metadata dialog and you select the current Briefcase user who is logged in, the name displays with extra characters in front of it. | Release 1.0 – March 31, 2014 | | |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--|
| 62743900already existing item is uploaded, it will cause a sync issue. All subsequent files/folders with the same name (in different cases) are not uploaded.62743916Colligo does not recommend assigning read-only or view-only permissions to SharePoint folders and libraries that will be synced to Briefcase. Users with these permissions will be able to edit these files on their local machines, but the changes will not get uploaded to SharePoint. This can result in scenarios with sync issues that will be difficult to resolve.63738670If you are viewing an image file that you have synced through Briefcase, you cannot delete it because it is in use.63750114You are able to see and select sub-sites you do not have permission for, but you are not able to see the content of these sub-sites.64187958In the metadata editor, if you press Enter in a multi-line text field, the characters '\r\n' display instead of a new line.64503744When a file becomes out of sync from a metadata update made to a file in SharePoint and a content change made in Briefcase, there will be a sync issue. If the sync issue is resolved locally through Briefcase, the changes are merget (that is, the content update from Briefcase and the metadata update from SharePoint are both saved. If you choose to keep the SharePoint changes, you lose the local edits.65929200You cannot drag-and-drop multiple .eml files with a conversation from the standard Mac mail client into Briefcase.6687496If you have a Person field in the metadata dialog and you select the current Briefcase user who is logged in, the name displays with extra characters in front of it.67585280Fast user switching between accounts with different permission levels is not supported.67585786< | Reference # | Description | |
| 62743916folders and libraries that will be synced to Briefcase. Users with these permissions will be able to edit these files on their local machines, but the changes will not get uploaded to SharePoint. This can result in scenarios with sync issues that will be difficult to resolve.63738670If you are viewing an image file that you have synced through Briefcase, you cannot delete it because it is in use.63750114You are able to see and select sub-sites you do not have permission for, but you are not able to see the content of these sub-sites.64187958In the metadata editor, if you press Enter in a multi-line text field, the characters '\r\n' display instead of a new line.64503744When a file becomes out of sync from a metadata update made to a file in SharePoint and a content change made in Briefcase, there will be a sync issue. If the sync issue is resolved locally through Briefcase, the changes are merged; that is, the content update from Briefcase and the metadata update from SharePoint are both saved. If you choose to keep the SharePoint changes, you lose the local edits.65929250You cannot drag-and-drop multiple eml files with a conversation from the standard Mac mail client into Briefcase.66173738If you have a Person field in the metadata dialog and you select the current Briefcase user who is logged in, the name displays with extra characters in front of it.67505290Fast user switching between accounts with different permission levels is not supported.67783594If you have a library synced to Briefcase that is then deleted on the SharePoint site, if you add a file to the now deleted location, the file is pushed to the parent directory of the deleted folder. When the file is added to Briefcase, it disappears and does not app | 62743900 | already existing item is uploaded, it will cause a sync issue. All subsequent files/folders | |
| 63738670it because it is in use.63750114You are able to see and select sub-sites you do not have permission for, but you are not able to see the content of these sub-sites.64187958In the metadata editor, if you press Enter in a multi-line text field, the characters 'lr/n' display instead of a new line.64503744When a file becomes out of sync from a metadata update made to a file in SharePoint and a content change made in Briefcase, there will be a sync issue. If the sync issue is resolved locally through Briefcase, the changes are merged; that is, the content update from Briefcase and the metadata update from SharePoint are both saved. If you choose to keep the SharePoint change, you lose the local edits.65929250You cannot drag-and-drop multiple .eml files with a conversation from the standard Mac mail client into Briefcase.66173738The metadata editor does not have a field to enter a description for a hyperlink or hyperlink to picture. Currently, you need to enter the URL of the link, then follow it with a comma and the description.66887496If you have a Person field in the metadata dialog and you select the current Briefcase user who is logged in, the name displays with extra characters in front of it.67585786If you have a library synced to Briefcase that is then deleted on the SharePoint site, if you add a file to the now deleted location, the file is pushed to the parent directory of the deleted folder. When the file is added to Briefcase, it disappears and does not appear in subsequent synchronizations.67783594The uninstall script does not delete the application file from the Applications folder for Standard users.68239970Pages, Numbers, and Keynote files can be synced and viewed in Briefcas | 62743916 | folders and libraries that will be synced to Briefcase. Users with these permissions will be able to edit these files on their local machines, but the changes will not get uploaded to | |
| b3750114able to see the content of these sub-sites.64187958In the metadata editor, if you press Enter in a multi-line text field, the characters '\r\n' display instead of a new line.64503744When a file becomes out of sync from a metadata update made to a file in SharePoint and a content change made in Briefcase, there will be a sync issue. If the sync issue is resolved locally through Briefcase, the changes are merged; that is, the content update from Briefcase and the metadata update from SharePoint are both saved. If you choose to keep the SharePoint changes, you lose the local edits.65929250You cannot drag-and-drop multiple .eml files with a conversation from the standard Mac mail client into Briefcase.66173738The metadata editor does not have a field to enter a description for a hyperlink or hyperlink to picture. Currently, you need to enter the URL of the link, then follow it with a comma and the description.66687496If you have a Person field in the metadata dialog and you select the current Briefcase user who is logged in, the name displays with extra characters in front of it.67585786If you have a library synced to Briefcase that is then deleted on the SharePoint site, if you add a file to the now deleted location, the file is pushed to the parent directory of the deleted folder. When the file is added to Briefcase, it disappears and does not appear in subsequent synchronizations.67783594The uninstall script does not delete the application file from the Applications folder for Standard users.68239970Pages, Numbers, and Keynote files can be synced and viewed in Briefcase, but not edited. The changes are not synced to SharePoint.68230356Sync a site with at least one library, then remove t | 63738670 | | |
| 64187958display instead of a new line.64503744When a file becomes out of sync from a metadata update made to a file in SharePoint and a content change made in Briefcase, there will be a sync issue. If the sync issue is resolved locally through Briefcase, the changes are merged; that is, the content update from Briefcase and the metadata update from SharePoint are both saved. If you choose to keep the SharePoint changes, you lose the local edits.65929250You cannot drag-and-drop multiple .eml files with a conversation from the standard Mac mail client into Briefcase.66173738The metadata editor does not have a field to enter a description for a hyperlink or hyperlink to picture. Currently, you need to enter the URL of the link, then follow it with a comma and the description.66687496If you have a Person field in the metadata dialog and you select the current Briefcase user who is logged in, the name displays with extra characters in front of it.67505290Fast user switching between accounts with different permission levels is not supported.67783594If you have a library synced to Briefcase that is then deleted on the SharePoint site, if you add a file to the now deleted location, the file is pushed to the parent directory of the deleted folder. When the file is added to Briefcase, it disappears and does not appear in subsequent synchronizations.67783594Pages, Numbers, and Keynote files can be synced and viewed in Briefcase, but not edited. The changes are not synced to SharePoint.68239970Pages, Numbers, and Keynote files can be synced and viewed in Briefcase, but not edited. The changes are not synce do SharePoint.6823056Sync a site with at least one library, then remove the library, and save and sync. | 63750114 | | |
| 64503744a content change made in Briefcase, there will be a sync issue. If the sync issue is resolved locally through Briefcase, the changes are merged; that is, the content update from Briefcase and the metadata update from SharePoint are both saved. If you choose to keep the SharePoint changes, you lose the local edits.65929250You cannot drag-and-drop multiple .eml files with a conversation from the standard Mac mail client into Briefcase.66173738The metadata editor does not have a field to enter a description for a hyperlink or hyperlink to picture. Currently, you need to enter the URL of the link, then follow it with a comma and the description.66687496If you have a Person field in the metadata dialog and you select the current Briefcase user who is logged in, the name displays with extra characters in front of it.67505290Fast user switching between accounts with different permission levels is not supported.67585786If you have a library synced to Briefcase that is then deleted on the SharePoint site, if you add a file to the now deleted location, the file is pushed to the parent directory of the deleted folder. When the file is added to Briefcase, it disappears and does not appear in subsequent synchronizations.67783594Pages, Numbers, and Keynote files can be synced and viewed in Briefcase, but not edited. The changes are not synced to SharePoint.68239970Sync a site with at least one library, then remove the library, and save and sync. If you re- add the library, then save and sync again, the content does not display in Briefcase until you restart the program. | 64187958 | display instead of a new line. | |
| 65929250mail client into Briefcase.66173738The metadata editor does not have a field to enter a description for a hyperlink or hyperlink to picture. Currently, you need to enter the URL of the link, then follow it with a comma and the description.66687496If you have a Person field in the metadata dialog and you select the current Briefcase user who is logged in, the name displays with extra characters in front of it.67505290Fast user switching between accounts with different permission levels is not supported.67585786If you have a library synced to Briefcase that is then deleted on the SharePoint site, if you add a file to the now deleted location, the file is pushed to the parent directory of the deleted folder. When the file is added to Briefcase, it disappears and does not appear in subsequent synchronizations.67783594The uninstall script does not delete the application file from the Applications folder for Standard users.68239970Pages, Numbers, and Keynote files can be synced and viewed in Briefcase, but not edited. The changes are not synced to SharePoint.68323056Sync a site with at least one library, then remove the library, and save and sync. If you re- add the library, then save and sync again, the content does not display in Briefcase until you restart the program. | 64503744 | a content change made in Briefcase, there will be a sync issue. If the sync issue is resolved locally through Briefcase, the changes are merged; that is, the content update from Briefcase and the metadata update from SharePoint are both saved. If you choose to keep | |
| 66173738hyperlink to picture. Currently, you need to enter the URL of the link, then follow it with a comma and the description.66687496If you have a Person field in the metadata dialog and you select the current Briefcase user who is logged in, the name displays with extra characters in front of it.67505290Fast user switching between accounts with different permission levels is not supported.67585786If you have a library synced to Briefcase that is then deleted on the SharePoint site, if you add a file to the now deleted location, the file is pushed to the parent directory of the deleted folder. When the file is added to Briefcase, it disappears and does not appear in subsequent synchronizations.67783594The uninstall script does not delete the application file from the Applications folder for Standard users.68239970Pages, Numbers, and Keynote files can be synced and viewed in Briefcase, but not edited. | 65929250 | | |
| 66687496who is logged in, the name displays with extra characters in front of it.67505290Fast user switching between accounts with different permission levels is not supported.67505290If you have a library synced to Briefcase that is then deleted on the SharePoint site, if you add a file to the now deleted location, the file is pushed to the parent directory of the deleted folder. When the file is added to Briefcase, it disappears and does not appear in subsequent synchronizations.67783594The uninstall script does not delete the application file from the Applications folder for Standard users.68239970Pages, Numbers, and Keynote files can be synced and viewed in Briefcase, but not edited. The changes are not synced to SharePoint.68323056Sync a site with at least one library, then remove the library, and save and sync. If you re- add the library, then save and sync again, the content does not display in Briefcase until you restart the program. | 66173738 | hyperlink to picture. Currently, you need to enter the URL of the link, then follow it with a | |
| 67585786If you have a library synced to Briefcase that is then deleted on the SharePoint site, if you add a file to the now deleted location, the file is pushed to the parent directory of the deleted folder. When the file is added to Briefcase, it disappears and does not appear in subsequent synchronizations.67783594The uninstall script does not delete the application file from the Applications folder for Standard users.68239970Pages, Numbers, and Keynote files can be synced and viewed in Briefcase, but not edited. The changes are not synced to SharePoint.68323056Sync a site with at least one library, then remove the library, and save and sync. If you re- add the library, then save and sync again, the content does not display in Briefcase until you restart the program. | 66687496 | | |
| 67585786add a file to the now deleted location, the file is pushed to the parent directory of the deleted folder. When the file is added to Briefcase, it disappears and does not appear in subsequent synchronizations.67783594The uninstall script does not delete the application file from the Applications folder for Standard users.68239970Pages, Numbers, and Keynote files can be synced and viewed in Briefcase, but not edited. The changes are not synced to SharePoint.68323056Sync a site with at least one library, then remove the library, and save and sync. If you re- add the library, then save and sync again, the content does not display in Briefcase until you restart the program. | 67505290 | Fast user switching between accounts with different permission levels is not supported. | |
| 67783594Standard users.68239970Pages, Numbers, and Keynote files can be synced and viewed in Briefcase, but not edited. The changes are not synced to SharePoint.68323056Sync a site with at least one library, then remove the library, and save and sync. If you re- add the library, then save and sync again, the content does not display in Briefcase until you restart the program. | 67585786 | add a file to the now deleted location, the file is pushed to the parent directory of the deleted folder. When the file is added to Briefcase, it disappears and does not appear in | |
| 68239970The changes are not synced to SharePoint.68323056Sync a site with at least one library, then remove the library, and save and sync. If you re- add the library, then save and sync again, the content does not display in Briefcase until you restart the program. | 67783594 | | |
| 68323056 add the library, then save and sync again, the content does not display in Briefcase until you restart the program. | 68239970 | | |
| 68241152 Office Libre is not supported. | 68323056 | add the library, then save and sync again, the content does not display in Briefcase until | |
| | 68241152 | Office Libre is not supported. | |